References throughout the thesis are cited using a number between square brackets [#], where the number of the cited reference is assigned in the list of references provided at the end of the thesis. If you refer to two documents, use the following format [6, 7]. If you refer to more than three documents listed consecutively, use the format [5-8]. You may use “Cross-reference” tool in MS Word for citing the reference number. For example:

Bouwkamp and Bolhom [1] stated that...
